“ Today would have been her 75th birthday.
I've known her since 2nd grade and we always called each other on our birthday.
Happy birthday, hope you and Dave are partying!

“ There are very few people whom you could hang out with all day and not tire of conversation and rehash old memories which always were a pleasure to hear. My sister Annette( I called her by that name since childhood) was one of those people. Her sense of humor rivaled anyone I've ever heard or known...so spontaneous and spot on. I chuckle even now of her telling how she held up high one of the “model prosthetic knees” at her orthopedic office waiting room filled with patients and gave her “ I'd like to thank the academy” speech in accepting her latest surgical procedure. I will miss you dearly and can only envision the spirits of you, Dave and our sister Laura having one continuous reunion and the other spirits at your resting site asking you guys if you'd let them please “Rest In Peace”. I do believe you are no longer in pain which is the solace to us all who are in pain of missing you.
Love you
Sandy

“ Antoinette is my moms sister. So me and my sisters called her “Auntynette” our whole lives. I spent lots and lots of my childhood at auntynettes house with her and my cousins (her children). Some of my best memories are spending Christmas Eve together, taking naps in her bed because it was so comfortable while her and my mom hung out in the kitchen watching QVC & chatting it up. I remember wanting a Lincoln Navigator for the longest time because auntynette had one and we used to go places in it all the time. Her house was in front of the lake and I would come over and go take walks on the path outside. I remember always stopping by auntynettes house on the way back from visiting my sister Lesa. Growing up I also remember putting auntynette down as an additional emergency contact for stuff because my mom knew she would always be there. She was an amazing sister to my mom, and I saw how much she loved her family. Especially her kids and grandkids. She had an awesome personality with a great sense of humor. Her and my mom were very close. I am thankful for all of the amazing memories with her and my family. Being around her and my whole family is what shaped my childhood and I couldn't have asked for better people to have that with.

“ So many memories, so many fun and silly times together. I will never forget introducing her to Dave and how they clicked almost instantly. All the years of tough times but they never lost their senses of humor and shared a deep love for all their children. Rest in peace my friend.
