“ I knew Johnny as a customer of Vansco. I worked at Datweiler Insurance (now Dimond Bros) in Herscher and he would deliver paper and products to the office all the time. I can see him coming in the office right now, with that big smile. He loved to visit and was always fun to be around. I loved hearing about all the travels that he and Sandi did to all the ball parks. We would get Cubs tickets from him. He was a really great guy. So sorry for the loss for all the family. He will be remembered and missed.

May the love and the memories you all share give you comfort as you grieve. It's sad to not be able to share a hug to let you know how much we care...but one day soon, that will be possible.
