“ Marcia, Lyle, Max & Families:

I just read your Mom's obituary, sorry for your loss. You have all heard the saying you can pick your friends, but not family, well we always felt like you all were family to us. I have so many pleasant memories of your Mom & Dad, from playing cards, the gun club, just getting together with them and my parents that I could write all day. Probably by now, your Mom, Dad, Margaret, John and Ralph have talked a sixth person into playing cards. God Bless. Nat Ferrari
