“ He was a wonderful man who enjoyed his family. We remember eating Christmas dinner with him with the whole family a couple of years ago. Although we don't have a lot of memories with him, we feel we knew him. Blessings to the family!

“ Those of us at the Lake of the Oaks in St. Patrick MO have fond memories of Pat.

He and his “old army buddy, Pete” Henson were a friendship that many envied. The longevity and simplicity of their connection was inspiring; it was a friendship that just made you feel good to witness.

When I drive by the Henson’s garage I can still see Pat and Pete sitting in the open doorway soaking up the summer sun spending hours tinkering with a lawn mower or weed eater engine that just wasn’t running right ... or just sitting and nodding off for a mid-morning siesta.... sitting for long periods not needing to say a word to each other - but yet knowing exactly what the other was thinking ... thrilled when another lake property owner would stop by to grab a chair and share the lake happenings or their perceptions of why the world was getting crazier and crazier and then to give Pat and Pete an audience to tell a good tale or two, always ending with a good chuckle ... to see the two of them get into the golf cart to take the long 40 foot ride down to the boat dock ... to spend hours of quiet patience hoping to snag the lake’s largest crappie or at least to tell the tale later of “ the big one that got away”!

Thank you, Pat, for being part of the Lake of the Oaks ... and part of the lake community. Thanks to Pat’s family for sharing him with us. I am sure the great Bosman- Henson friendship is livening up things in heaven! RIP

“ In the early '60s Pat and Joan would have me, sister Janet, and brother Alan over for a day occasionally, always filled with laughter, popcorn, ice tea, and water fights. Later in my live when I got my first and second cars (Corvair and Impala) and needed some major repairs (could not afford them), Pat offered to help me fix them. Basically, he fixed them. He would accept no money for his time and expertise for the work done. This after he got home from a full days work at Cat. We always felt welcome when we dropped in no matter what was going on. We will always have fond memories. Dale Clodi

“ Remember Pat taking my boys fishing out on his boat. It meant so much to them and myself. Had a fish fry later and it was special. Joan and Pat were the greatest couple I ever was blessed to know.
