“ Kay was my mothers first friend ever she lived across the street from my mother and they were the best of friends for all they're childhood and still as adults even though years down the road put distance between them that friendship never left . For one of my most fondest memories other then her addicting laugh is when she was taking me to get my license and it was winter my hair was blonde in the summer and dark in the winter and I didn't want my hair to be on my license dark so I colored it and had green hair I cried and cried kay came over and fixed my hair all the time her and my mother laughing at the time I didn't see the humor lol but she fixed it and took me to get my license. my mother and I loved this woman as if she was of our own blood and I have but one regret that I did close the gap the years had made, you are so missed kay and so loved. rip and tell Kenny and denny hi
