“ Chuck was a good father to his children and did a good job raising them as a single parent. He always had funny jokes and even some that weren't that still made you laugh. He was easy going and yes he loved the 50's and 60's music. Prayers to all his children be families. Cherish the memories you have as there are many. Love you all Barb Sims

He was a good man, a good brother, and a good uncle. I remember him always being ready and willing to help my Dad (Ralph) at the house anytime he needed it when I was a kid. He was always fun to be around with a good cheerful spirit and a story to tell. He was kind, he always let dad be right even when he wasn't and took it all in stride. There was never a time he was needed that he didn't show up. He was a giver and he was very much loved and will be missed. - Anna, Susie, and Carley Sims.

Uncle junior as I knew him was a very simple man. He did everything for his entire family that he could whether you were near or far like I was. My mom(Cookie) and him were very close being the 2 eldest of the clan. They talked every week for several hours each time and went on vacation to Tennessee once my dad passed as they both wanted to see Opryland in their life. I also remember junior coming out to California so he could put his toes in the Pacific ocean. He always gave more than he deserved but those are 2 memories I remember were he got something he wanted. Love ya uncle....RIP.
