“ Lola is my grandma who I haven't seen since I think about 2018 when my dad got arrested. I remember when me and my brothers would be at her house for the summer, she loved to cook for everyone and you could tell she loved us with all her being. She would almost all ways have stinky cheese in her fridge and after she ate some she would chase us around the house to give us kisses despite her health. I miss her so much and I wish I could've visited her or at least been there to give a last goodbye. I know she's watching over us in heaven smiling at how big we've gotten. I love you grandma, goodbye.

Now your fight is over, and it's time to be united with your son and family in our heavenly fathers house. This is not a goodbye in my part, I will be seeing you when my time comes. So don't be driving everyone crazy up there. I'm happy that you where about to spent time with your whole family. Because family is the most precious gift. I love you and my nephews.

“ My dear sister It seems like yesterday we were growing up together in foster homes. We moved back with mom then started our own families. We were never too far apart and connected when we could. These last years were difficult for you and some of us sisters tried to comfort you as best as we could. But your goal was always to go home. I'm glad we had a couple of years together playing bingo, decorating your room for the holidays, having our weekly dinner cheat days, and of course the bath days. We laughed and talked about the old times,we talked about our kids. And you were always so kind to ask about everyone. I miss our conversations and your smile. I know your in a better place with our parents and Raymond. I'm sure your young again and giving everyone a good run. We'll be the same age Jan 8 for a month and for a month every year we'll always be connected. You can rest now without pain. Your forever in everyone's hearts.

“ When I think of Lola I specifically think about how much she loved all her grandkids, near and far. When she was around she would make them know and feel it. She touched alot of people's lives. I send my condolences to her family and all those who knew and loved her. Rest in peace Lola, you will not be forgotten.
