“ I loved Duane for the way he loved and cared for Debbie while she was caring for her mother. He was my girl's favorite Uncle, and both counted on him to walk them down the aisle at their weddings. He will be greatly missed and the memories of him treasured until we meet him again in Heaven. His, "Hey! Have I showed you this?" which preceded his showing of the great bargains from auctions, will be missed. Holiday dinners just will not be the same without him.

“ Duane is my great uncle and although I haven't seen him very recently, I used to visit his farm when I was younger and play with all the animals. We saw each other on holidays and on Thanksgiving I remember him always laughing and cracking jokes. I'll never forget those times and I'll cherish him in my heart forever.

“ I'll always remember the first time I met Duane 1972, he had an unusual nickname that took me a long time to call him, but he liked it. I met him in Gilman, and he worked for and with my husband. He shared many meals at our home and he was a good friend. I knew I could always count on him for anything. He was kind, gentle, honest, and strong. He could fix anything. He helped me so many times. Our paths went in different directions so we didn't see him as much, but always thought of him. He helped with our auctions. He always wore a hat, and he had great head of hair, but the hat was his signature. He continued to be strong and fought a good fight with the disease that took so much from him. I am so glad he was my friend. My deepest sympathy to the family
