“ Freida L. Mitchell

“Freida worked for my husband at Detroit Automotive. She became his prayer partner when the train left the tracks. What a good woman, clearly the handiwork of God.

*I wish I stood where you now stand,
Where grief and pain no longer lie.
Sorrow and sighing are no more
And never again shall you cry.*

*I wish I knew what you now know,
The fullness that your mind perceives,
The mysteries of life revealed,
True splendor, untamed majesties.*

*I wish I felt what you now feel,
The effervescent radiance,
The culmination of all joy,
A perfect, blissful ambience.*

*I wish I saw what you now see,
Efulgence shining all around,
Beauty in consummate display,
Aesthetics to your eyes unbound.*

*I wish I heard what you now hear,
The harmonizing of all things,
The ancient melody resolved,
The chorus that perfection sings.*

*I wish I smelt what you now smell,
The fragrances of life unscathed,
The wafting scents of redeemed growth,
The perfumed cloud in which you're bathed.*

*I wish I tasted what you taste,
The sweetest ambrosial flavors,*

*An endless feast of pure delights,
Luscious fare, supernal savors.*

*I wish I was clothed as you are,
Fresh robed in immortality,
Stained dress forever swallowed by Imperishable victory.*

*I wish I was with Whom you're with,
The King of Kings and Lord of Lords,
The centerpiece of creation
Whose glory you're now gazing towards!*

this poem written by my son in law Ben for my husbands graduation to heaven.

“ Dear Cousins,

It was with a heavy heart that I learned of the passing of your mother. Although I had not seen her in years, we kept in touch. She has always been very dear to me. One of the highlights of my life when I was a little girl, was visiting her and her brother Billy.

During the War she stayed with my family and watched over me while my mother and father worked in defense plants in Kansas City. My heart was broken when she married and left to be with her new husband.

I will miss her.

Your cousin,

Jeanette

“ Don't cry for me now I have died, for I'm still here I'm by your side,
My body's gone but my soul's is here, please don't shed another tear,
I am still here I'm all around, only my body lies in the ground.
I am the snowflake that kisses your nose,
I am the frost, that nips your toes.
I am the sun ,bringing you light,
I am the star, shining so bright.
I am the rain, refreshing the earth,
I am the laughter, I am the mirth.
I am the bird, up in the sky,
I am the cloud, that's drifting by.
I am the thoughts, inside your head,
While I'm still there, I can't be dead.
