“ Georgia was my 2nd Mom while they lived next door to us on Marla Terrace. Wonderful neighbors and wonderful people. Marsha and I were close friends during those years. I kept in touch with Georgia, as my Mom did until she was to ill to, by mail and I had the pleasure to visit with her on one of our trips home to Bourbonnais several years ago. The picture you used here is such a nice one and the way I want to remember her. My memories of Marsha and Georgia will always bring wonderful thoughts to mind. Thinking of all of you as you remember this beautiful, loving woman.

“ I met Georgia back in 1979 being a new hire at Sears for Christmas help. It was my first "real" job after high school with a big company and I was rather quiet back then. lol I remember Georgia always had a smile on her face and always made time to say Hi or to talk to me going by her desk. Sears was a "real family store" back in those days. I had many "Aunts", "Uncles", "Big Sisters", and "Big Brothers" looking after me and Georgia was apart of that! Kim Yohnka
