“ I’ve always known her as Nona. She wanted to be called Nona because she loved the name and always thought she was made a grandma young. She and Papa would usually visit around Christmas or Easter every year. Sometimes both. We looked forward to the visits every year and kept in touch by calling every day when my brother and I were kids. It was the only phone number I memorized as a kid and would call Nona every day just to talk. As I got older the calls were filled with more humor and Nona definitely had a quick wit to her. I’ll remember and miss her laugh most of all. I’m glad that she got to meet both of my daughters before she passed. It meant a lot to me that she see both of her great granddaughters before she was gone. I’ll miss her so much and wish my Dad, Papa, and the rest of the family can grieve healthy and heal. She was a well loved woman.
