In 2 days it will be 2 years since you left us for a better place. I still have a hard time truly believing your really gone from this earth. I think of you alot and remember so much about our lives as a family. I will always wish things were different and that you were still here. I miss your phone calls, chatting with you and seeing you. I know I will see you again but I don't know when. I can only miss you for now. I love you.

Today is 3 years since you had your last stroke. I think of you alot and the life that you lived. I wish it could've been better for you. I will always wish you were still here. I'm still trying to accept that your not coming back. I miss you. I miss talking to you because you were always a good listener and you always had time to talk. Watch over Danny for me. I know you will. I love you
