“ Dear Mudd Family: You are in my prayers. I worked on the same unit Mr. Mudd worked on. When I was a nervous trainee, Mr. Mudd would lighten the tension with jokes. You would never know he was ill, he would always focus on the good things. It had been an honor to have known him.

“ To the Mud family You have my deepest condolences on the passing of Joe. I will greatly miss our conversations in the driveways. He was always smiling and "living the dream" as he used to say to me all the time in our conversations. My hope and prayers are that Joe is at peace and in Heaven riding his motorcycle. He will be missed but never forgotten.

“ Joey, you were always smiling and laughing, and fun to be around. I remember a wonderful picture of you in your uniform - so dashing! Knowing you no longer grace this earth is sorrowful for those you loved and who loved you...

“ That's an excellent photo of Joey, and how I always remembered him smiling & laughing when we were kids. I hadn't seen him in a long time, but time never diminished the love I had for my dear cousin. We recently reconnected online, but it was a brief connection. How I wish I could have spent some time with him and gotten all "caught up" on where his life had taken him, and see that laughter one more time. My heartfelt condolences to his beautiful family he has left behind, as we await the next reunion with him in heaven.

“ I was so sad to hear of Joe's death - such a young time to leave your lives. Joe was always that "big older cousin" to me. I was so proud he was in the Marines. I especially remember the day he showed me some of the self-defense moves he learned. I was in awe. And his big blue eyes were always laughing. He will be missed and you all are in my prayers.
